

Students Are Always Connected

My two techie sixth graders just ran to my room - Apple just released a new iTouch - 32 gig. It's their lunchtime. They both have iTouches and connect wireless through our airports in school. They get alerted when apple announces a new product. This is their world, being connected and knowing what is going on.